Selectmen appoint two to Bethel Appeals Board

The Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday night appointed Mike Brown and Shirley Gilbert to the town's Board of Appeals. The selectmen also approved the sewer design plan for the Eden Ridge subdivision. The sewer will basically follow the switchback roadway from Eden Lane to Vernon Street. The selectmen approved, in concept, the addition of two more units onto the 50 already approved for the sewer. In addition, the selectmen approved the new sewer policy and sewer impact fee policy first aired April 22. In other business, the selectmen ruled the rent of the Cole Block space occupied by Citizen Press, from $200 a month to $300 a month. They raised the rent of the space occupied by W.J. Wheeler from $250 a month to $300 a month. They opened bids for the printing of the town report and awarded the job to the low bidder, Citizen Press.

THIS SNOWMAN LOOKS AS IF HE HAS OVERSTAYED HIS WELCOME, as he stands disconsolately on green grass at the Anne and Ray Moran residence, Broad Street, Bethel. The photo was taken last Friday. The snowman was a reminder of the storm, two days earlier, that dumped 10 inches of snow on the area.

Newry selectmen discuss chimney Tuesday

The Newry Board of Selectmen, meeting Tuesday morning at the town office, discussed communications with David Walker regarding his using a metalbestos chimney in his new home. Mr. Walker some time ago informed the board that there was a possibility he would not be able to pour a foundation for a masonry chimney because the lot of his lot stated that the building could not be put on a permanent foundation. Newry's building code states that any heating unit designed to burn wood, coal or oil must have a masonry chimney with a concrete base. He has installed a metalbestos chimney and in a recent letter he stated that he had contacted his lender who agreed that the town's building code would supersede the lease and he would be able to use a foundation. However, since the metalbestos chimney is now in place he felt he should be able to use it. Following discussion, the selectmen decided to advise by the building code and notify Mr. Walker to remove the chimney prior to June 1, 1987. The code provides for a fine of up to $100 per day violation, which could be enforced after that time. Present at the meeting was Veronica Smith, who reported on the progress of the comprehensive plan. She planned to contact other members of the planning committee and a joint meeting with the selectmen will be held soon. Mike Lynch from the solid waste committee reported

Bethel Rotary might be affected by court ruling

Bethel Rotary Club President Dave Freble told the club membership yesterday (Tuesday) that the Supreme Court ruling regarding allowing women into Rotary clubs could affect the Bethel club at some future date. He did not envision the Bethel club taking immediate action in response to the court ruling. The Supreme Court ruling Monday upheld a California court ruling that a Rotary club in that state had been unjustly thrown out of Rotary International for allowing women to join the club. Local Rotary clubs are given charters by Rotary International, and since the club's inception 82 years ago, the clubs have all been male only. According to California law, discrimination in public accommodations is illegal. The Rotary club in question argued that their membership should be guided by that law. Rotary International disagreed and withdrew the on meetings he had attended recently. He stated that the possibility of a county or area solid waste disposal facility was being studied. The selectmen will be contacting the Andover and Rumford town officials on the possibility of perambulating the town lines. It is hoped the work can be done before the leaves are fully out or it will be held off until fall. The selectmen plan to meet Thursday morning and all day Friday to work on tax assessing.

SAD #44 directors meeting next Monday

The board of directors of SAD #44 will meet in regular session at 7:30 next Monday evening, May 11, in the library at Teller Regional High School. Agenda items will include: teacher transfer requests for the 1987-88 school year; request of staff member for reduction of teaching days; appointment of part-time curriculum coordinators, and part-time athletic director for the Teller complex, for 1987-88 school year; authorization to post teacher vacancies for the 1987-88 school year occurring between May 11 and 25; action on results of SAD #44 School Attitude Survey completed by JMO in January 1987. Also slated for action Monday evening is selection of certified personnel as follows: kindergarten teacher, district speech teacher, middle school guidance counselor.

No contests on ballot for Bethel election

When Bethel voters go to the polls on Monday, June 8, they will find no contests listed on the ballot. As the deadline passed for the filing of nomination petitions with Town Clerk Merton Brown on Tuesday of this week, only one candidate filed for each office to be filled this year. Incumbents Patricia G. Doon and Arlan Jodrey are seeking re-election to the board of selectmen for three years. Mrs. Doon and Robert Stevens, both incumbents, are candidates for three year terms on the board of assessors. Stanley Howe is seeking election to the SAD #44 board of directors after a one-year hiatus. Incumbent John K. Brown will seek re-election. Alvin Barth, elected to the SAD #44 board three years ago, declined not to seek the position again.

Androscoggin R. stocked with trout

As a result of improvements in water quality in recent years, the Androscoggin River is being considered for cold-water fishery management. According to 5,000 brook trout were stocked in the fall of 1986 by the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. These fish were planted in the stretch of river between Bethel and the New Hampshire border. In addition, the section between Rumford and Bethel is scheduled to receive 1,000 brook trout this spring, according to fishery biologist Forrest Bonney. Because these stockings are experimental, fishery biologists are especially interested in determining survival rates and return to the angler of these fish. All of the fish will have had a fin removed prior to stocking, and will therefore be identifiable as hatchery reared fish. Anglers are asked to report catching marked fish from the Androscoggin River. The Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife is cooperating with Trout Unlimited in placing creel survey boxes with questionnaire cards at angler access points for this purpose. Planning Board to hear from Bethel Inn lawyer

Local attorney Gordon Gillies, representing The Bethel Inn, is expected to appear before the Bethel Planning Board tonight (Wednesday) at its regular meeting at Teller Regional High School. He is expected to discuss with the board the question of the legality of that body's vote two weeks ago denying a subdivision permit for the Inn's townhouse condominiums. The vote at that meeting was a 2-2 tie, with members Don Eddy and Lennie Shaw in favor of the motion to grant the permit and members Cathy Newell and Ginger Kelly opposed to the motion. Board members John Gray and John Laban did not participate because of their employers' involvement in the proposed project, and member Karen Brown was absent. Acting Chairman Newell announced at the time of the vote that in case of a tie the motion fails, thus the permit is to be denied. Since then, some town officials and an attorney for the Maine Municipal Association have suggested that the vote was improper since, given the 7-member size of the board, there needed to be a 4-member majority for a legal vote. Others have suggested that the maximum size of the board that evening (given the two not-voting members) was five, and the majority needed to be three on one side or the other in order to have a binding vote. The Inn has already prepared an appeal of the Planning Board decision, but town officials have not presented the appeal to the Appeals Board wanting to wait until the Planning Board decides whether to stick by the original vote or bring the matter up for reconsideration. By normal parliamentary rules, reconsideration could only be possible if it is requested by someone who voted with the prevailing side, which in this case, was the side that voted against the permit. But if it is determined that—because of the lack of a sufficient majority—neither side prevailed, it might be possible to bring the matter back to the Planning Board for another vote, town officials believe.

Opinions

A note from the publisher

You ever get the feeling that government policies don't make very good sense? Take some of these contradictions and tell me if they are the product of rational thinking processes.

The federal government last week barred the Austrian president, Kurt Waldheim, from visiting this country. Why? He's suspected of having been implicated in the deaths of partisans and civilians in World War II as a German soldier.

Should we then bar all murderers from visiting our country? What about Ferdinand Marcos, former president of the Philippines, who was convicted of murdering a political opponent of his father? He not only visits our country, he lives in our country.

What about General Fabian Ver, Mr. Marcos' top military henchman? He is accused of murdering Benigno S. Aquino, the slain husband of Philippine President Corazon Aquino. General Ver, like his boss, is living very comfortably in this country, though he is wanted in the ongoing murder trial in Manila.

What about South Korean President Chun Doo Hwan, whose troops murdered hundreds of South Korean civilians in the infamous Kwangju Uprising? He comes and goes freely in this country, and is expected this spring on yet another state visit. Do we have a policy against admitting murderers and suspected accomplices or just a policy against Waldheim?

Or take the Reagan Administration's stand on three short films produced by the Canadian Film Board—Canada's state-supported film producer. The films—"If You Love This Planet," "Acid from Heaven," and "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery?"—cannot be shown in this country unless the exhibitor labels them "political propaganda."

The first film is about the consequences of nuclear war; the second two are about the consequences of acid rain. Certainly no one likes to dwell on the consequences of either, but banning films that deal with these subjects is not the best way of limiting the consequences of our own technological mindlessness.

While the administration bans films about acid rain, Americans can watch—on TV or in movie theaters—the most inane, violent, or chauvinistic trash, much of which is as harmful to human sensibilities as acid rain or nuclear fallout is to life in general.

And speaking of what we're allowed to see or read, the government has already banished cigarette advertising from TV; now they seek to banish it from newspapers. One would almost think the government had our health in mind, except when you recall that the government gives tens of millions of dollars each year as subsidies to tobacco farmers.

Then there's the trade bill passed by the House of Representatives last week. According to this bill, which the President—thank goodness—says he'll veto, countries that sell us substantially more than they buy from us will have to do something to correct that imbalance, or we will impose countervailing tariffs, as the President did to Japanese electronics goods recently.

Does this mean that our trade with every country must be in balance? Even with countries where we sell considerably more than we buy, such as Israel? What about countries, such as Colombia, where we buy billions of dollars worth of cocaine, but where the people are generally too poor to buy very much from us? Does this mean an end to the cocaine trade?

Maine Congresswoman Olympia Snowe sees the trade bill as a way of saving American jobs. Granted shoe factory jobs are pretty good jobs, but is it written in the Ten Commandments that we will have shoe factory jobs until the end of time? Are they not other good jobs—better jobs? Here at The Citizen we're looking for willing and energetic apprentice graphic arts workers to learn camera work and paste up and to learn to run our printing presses. These jobs have a better future than shoe jobs, and we're willing to re-train displaced shoe workers. So are any number of other print shops. There are plenty of new jobs in Maine that are going begging.

Last week the Reagan-backed Contras killed an American, Ernest Linder, of Portland, Ore., in Nicaragua. There are 2,000 Americans in Nicaragua helping the government there with community service projects. Does it make sense for

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Telstar baseball teams would like to express their gratitude to the Athletic Boosters for their generous gift of our new homerun fence. The teams also thank Western Maine Supply Co. for the contribution of fence support posts. We dedicated the first homerun hit by a Telstar player (Perry Hart) to our gracious benefactors.

To the Editor:

Acknowledgement of Ned Hasting's letter in the April 22 edition of The Citizen is in order, in which his bi-partisan opinions were so freely expressed. Reversing the coin, I too am entitled, and do indeed deem it a precious freedom for the opportunity, to express my thoughts concerning my forefathers. I am also sure if all the Bryans who are now gone could stand before you, you would see why I feel obligated to speak out for them, as they are no longer able to speak for themselves.

I do not feel that I have "attacked" Mrs. Emery, or anyone else. My opinions have been stated as I see them, and in no way, or at any time, did I, or have I, tried to undermine the value of Mrs. Emery's work. In this one particular area, I felt it an obligation to my family to speak out for what I believe in.

It is not appreciated that many of my thoughts have been misunderstood, or the intent of their context been questioned by anyone.

I would hope that after reading this letter, that anyone who is not concerned with the issue not feel compelled to jump into the arena, and imply that my opinions are, and were, anything but genuinely sincere.

To the Editor:

To the family of Eleanor C. "Boots" Morton:

Occasionally, but not often enough, a person comes into our lives who shows us how to rise above life's meanness. One of life's joys is that one never knows when or where one will experience that kind of inspiration. Who would have expected that so many of us here at Gould Academy would find it in one who served us every day in our dining hall? Though she would have scoffed at the notion, Boots was a great teacher. Her subject area, which seems deceptively simple, was a positive attitude toward life, and she mastered it. We miss Boots Morton.

our government to pay money to Contras to invade Nicaragua—a country with which we have diplomatic relations—and kill Americans? This is outrageous. I realize that it's an imperfect world, but it seems our government is trying to make it more imperfect.

While I can get heated up on a number of subjects, I'm not one of those people who can get moralistic about the weather. To hear some people talk, there's good weather and bad weather. As I see it, there's just weather—wet, dry, cold or hot. I refuse to make value judgments about the elements.

Therefore I didn't complain last Wednesday when I walked out of the house for my morning newspaper and sank into 10 inches of snow in my driveway. I didn't even complain when I noticed that my morning paper hadn't arrived yet. I know that if the roads are passable, Mr. Henley delivers the paper. So I assumed the roads were not good for travel.

And, in fact, when I made my weekly Wednesday trip into Lewiston to have our paper printed, the roads were not good at all, and school authorities were wise in cancelling school.

However, aside from that I didn't really mind the snow. In fact, it was quite nice to be able to see yellow daffodils and forsythia against a white background and newly green willows standing with their fresh pastel buds draped with snow. And as the snow melted, the grass underneath looked especially refreshing.

And remember, the early run-off this spring did away with the water we need in our streams and in our wells. This late snowfall was really just what the doctor ordered.

charter of the club. Rotary International argued that the U.S. Constitution guarantees freedom of association.

Commenting on the court's 7-0 vote in favor of having women in the club, Associate Justice Lewis Powell said, "Even if [the California anti-discrimination statute] does work some sharp infringement on Rotary members' right of expressive association, that infringement is justified because it serves the state's compelling interest in eliminating discrimination against women."

Bethel Rotary Club President Preble told the membership at yesterday's weekly meeting he expected Rotary International to issue guidelines to the member clubs.

In the northeast district, to which the Bethel club belongs, the district governor has already expressed his belief that women should be allowed into Rotary.

There are 22,765 Rotary clubs, organized into 47 districts, in 161 countries worldwide, with a membership of over 1 million. The organization is dedicated to community service.

UMO offers 3-day course on wood drying skills

Wood products are a mainstay of the Maine economy, and that mainstay is faced with a major problem. Whether in western, southern or northern Maine, 80 percent of the difficulties of working with wood are related to improper moisture content.

To address, and help correct, these problems, the University of Maine's Forest Products Laboratory will be conducting its 21st annual Wood Drying Short Course May 12-14 (Tuesday through Thursday) at the Skowhegan Cooperative Extension Office.

The program is designed to improve the knowledge and skills of kiln operators, managers and others involved in the drying of wood. The specific needs and concerns of the participants are identified at the onset of the program, and a day of basic knowledge is followed with two days of applied subjects. A format of informal presentations allows ample time for questions and answers, and individual problem-solving.

Management personnel, architects, contractors, lumber salesmen, retailers and people thinking of starting their own wood products businesses have benefited from the short course in the past. More than 480 people from 181 companies have participated during the past 20 years.

Featured speakers at the short course will be Jim Catterick, of Ontario, the leading authority on drying white pine; and Maurice Roy, of Vermont, who manages the largest custom kiln-drying operation in the east. Other professionals from Oregon and Florida will join in presentations with forest products faculty from the University of Maine.

Reservations for the course may be made with the Conferences and Institutes Division, Chadbourne Hall, Orono, or by calling Richard Hale, coordinator for the short course, at 581-2883.

RETIRED TEACHERS TO MEET

The Oxford County Retired Teachers will meet at the Oxford Legion Hall on Saturday, May 16. Social hour starts at 10:30 with the business meeting at 11:15.

The afternoon program will be Randall Bennett speaking on the architecture of Oxford County.

The Scholarship Fund fundraiser will be a potluck.

Vietnam war looked like the ordinary foot soldier—the grunt. It's strong medicine.

It's also very timely medicine given this country's short memory of the mistake we made by getting involved in Vietnam. Claiming we were saving the freedom-loving people in southern Vietnam from the Chinese-backed communists of northern Vietnam, we changed the Saigon government to suit our needs and devastated the countryside in order to maintain a toehold on the Asian mainland.

The result, of course, was loss of the toehold, loss of prestige, and loss of hundreds of thousands of lives—about 50,000 of them Americans. For the Vietnamese, it turned out they disliked the Chinese at least as much as the Americans and are now quite independent, albeit communist.

Unless we change our antagonistic attitude towards Nicaragua, we are going down the same fatal path: first we use mercenaries to do our fighting, then we use neighboring countries, finally we commit American G.I.s. The outcome can only be that all of Central America will become embroiled in our effort to control the region, and all of Central America will turn against us.

Mundt-Allen Post & Unit to install May 12

Mundt-Allen Post and Unit #81, American Legion and Auxiliary will hold a joint installation of officers Tuesday evening, May 12, at their hall on Vernon Street, preceded by a 6:30 potluck supper.

Legion officers will be installed by a team from Napoleon-Ouette Post, Rumford. The 1987-88 Mundt-Allen Post officers are as follows: Gene Buswell, commander; Arthur Taylor, first vice commander; Albert Raymond, second vice commander; Lindsey Wieden, adjutant; Robert Lowe, finance and service officer; Dana Brooks, sgt.-at-arms; Peter Anderson, chaplain.

Auxiliary officers to be installed include: Jeri Brooks, president; Arlene Bean, first vice president; Caroline Merrill, second vice president; Ramona Lowe, secretary-treasurer; Abbie Buswell, chaplain/sgt.-at-arms; and Mary Brown, historian.

Auxiliary junior member Mary Ann Lowe, granddaughter of Bob and Ramona Lowe, has been selected to be Miss Poppy. Poppy Days will be held May 15 and 16, with the Bethel Cub Scouts assisting with distribution.

Melissa Palmer, a junior member of the auxiliary, the daughter of Francis and Louise Palmer, has been named as a delegate to Girls State in Bangor. Her alternate is Julie Denison, the daughter of Dave and Marcia Denison.

Unit #81 delegates to Department Convention in Augusta this year are: Arlene Bean, Abbie Buswell, Ramona Lowe, Ruth Kittredge, and Jeri Brooks. Caroline Merrill is alternate. Jeri Brooks and Carolyn Brooks will represent the department as delegates to the National Convention in San Antonio, Texas, in August.

MMA workshop in Bethel May 13

The Maine Municipal Association will sponsor a series of Elected Officials Workshops throughout the state during the month of May. The workshops are designed to help elected officials understand their municipal roles and responsibilities, and become better informed on municipal matters. Topics areas to be discussed are the Right to Know Law, General Assistance, Municipal Liability, Municipal Finance and Personnel/Labor Relations. The Maine Municipal Association feels these workshops are extremely important for elected officials. There is no registration fee for the workshops. The workshop in Bethel will be held on May 13.

While the workshops are geared for elected officials, all municipal employees are welcome to attend, especially those who are new to municipal government.

For further information as to times and locations, or to register, call Cathy Callahan, Training Coordinator at MMA at 1-800-452-8786.

OHJHS 8th-grade shows progress on statewide test

The 8th-grade at Oxford Hills Junior High School did better on the statewide achievement test this year than the 8th-grade last year. The results were released by the SAD #17 superintendent's office this week.

Last year's 8th-grade performed at or above average (compared with other similar schools) in reading writing and science, with an especially good showing in writing. Last year's 8th-grade performed below average (compared with other similar schools) in math, social studies and humanities.

This year's 8th-grade was able to improve in the areas where the 1985-86 class was weak, but social studies scores were still below statewide averages. This year's 8th-grade did particularly well in reading and writing.

The scores of the OHJHS 8th-grade on the statewide achievement exam were as follows:

• Reading: 300, compared to 250-285 in similar schools statewide;

• Writing: 285, compared to 235-270 in similar schools statewide;

• Math: 280, compared to 265-300 in similar schools statewide;

• Science: 235, compared to 210-275 in similar schools statewide;

• Humanities: 290, compared to 260-300 in similar schools statewide;

The tests were administered to the 8th-graders statewide last November. At OHJHS there were 303 8th-graders; the scores of 279, or 92 percent of the class, were included in the test results.

The statewide achievement tests were mandated by the Legislature as part of the Educational Reform Act of 1984. They are given at three different grade levels—4th, 8th and 11th-grade. They were administered for the first time in 1985-86. This is the second year they are being administered. The 8th-grade scores are the first to be released this year. Still to come are the results of the 4th-grade exams and the 11th-grade exams.

Of the 8th-graders taking the exam at OHJHS last fall, 54 percent were girls while 46 percent were boys. On average, the girls scored significantly better than the boys in reading, writing and humanities. The boys scored significantly better than the girls in science, and somewhat better than the girls in math and social studies.

On average, those students whose parents graduated from college did much better on the exams than did students whose parents did not graduate from college. On average, the students who did worst on the exams were those whose parents did not graduate from high school.

In Loving Memory of Larry Wayne Patterson
Who Passed Away May 12, 1986

His life is a beautiful memory
His death is a sudden grief
He was in God's beautiful garden
To sunshine and perfect peace
So many things he did for us
To his kind and loving way
He gave us twenty-seven years of happiness
No one can take away
To us he was someone special
Someone so good and true
You'll never be forgotten LARRY
We thought the world of you
We miss you so dear friend
The tears in our eyes we can wipe
But the pain in our hearts is there to stay

Nancy Nye and her Potato Garden Puppet Theater was a great success. Ms. Nye presented four different stories: three for grades K-3, and three for grades 4-6.

In addition to enjoying the stories, the children learned about puppetry: props, music, costumes, etc. For two shows an assistant from the audience was needed. Audrey Tikander from Grade 1 volunteered for the first presentation, and Joseph Webb of Grade 4 ably assisted for the second presentation. Keep a watch for more news on Joseph. He will be participating in the Special Olympics wheel chair racing to be held at Gould Academy on May 18.

Keep the date of Friday, May 8, in mind. Students in grades 4-6 will be presenting a science fair and will be in the gym from 1:30 to 2:30. Parents and friends are welcome to come and view all the projects.

Despite achievement tests, regular schoolwork continues. The fifth graders current book report consists of reading their favorite book from early childhood—out loud to the class. This is not so easy as it sounds. Remember that many children's books were written to be read to children, not necessarily by children. Before reading to the class, each student has to practice orally to make sure of pronunciation and proper expression. Rachel Abbott, Andrea Pratt, Joshua Walton have already read their stories. Rebecca Abbott and Joshua Walton have already received answers from their letters to Maryland, Nevada and Idaho. The rest of the 4th-graders are anxiously awaiting their answers, so we can get started on a special social studies project.

Mr. Lovell, our physical education teacher, has measured a mile long track around the school in preparation for grades 3-6, who will be running the mile. Grade 2 is studying about farms and the children who live on them. They will be incubating eggs, hopefully hatching some, and will be making a model farm.

The latest special month constables in Grade 2 are: Joshua Dunham, Lucas Hiebert, Jason Eastman and Alicia Boutot. Congratulations for finishing your month mysteries!

Grade 4 is working on division, oral book reports, finishing up the CAP program and looking forward to the annual field trip to our capital, on May 28. The students will visit the State House, the Blaine House, and the Maine State Museum. This is a culminating activity for their Maine studies.

Our secretary, Alta Pierce, and our assistant, Heidi Everett, will be in Hallowell May 12 and 13 receiving training for our Great Books program. We are looking forward to having more Great Books groups. We are also congratulating Mrs. Pierce on the latest arrival in her family: Her daughter and son-in-law, Pam and Chuck Frazzelli, are the proud parents of a handsome, healthy son, Troy.

The third-graders are busy as usual.

COLE MAKES SOFTBALL TEAM AT PLYMOUTH STATE COLLEGE

Valerie Cole, of Greenwood, has been an important contributor to the 1987 Plymouth State College Panther softball team, according to her coach.

A 1984 graduate of Telstar Regional High School, Ms. Cole is an infielder for Plymouth State this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cole, of Greenwood.

Coach Nancy Strapko's PSC softball team enjoyed a successful, winning season in 1987, and the future looks bright for softball at the home of the Panthers.

Another activity happening on May 8 is the Oxford Hills District Art Show. It will be held at the Oxford Hills High School, in the gym, cafeteria and auditorium, from 5 to 9 p.m. In addition to students, community artists have been invited to participate. Students from the Agnes Gray School who will have work on display are: Shelly Robinson, Jenny Ruokola, Grade 4; Willo Andrews, Liberty Woodworth, Jon Haas, Andrew Bolstridge, Darcy Robertson, Charlie Billings, Austin Hayes, Heather Edwards, Grade 3. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Telstar to hold summer session

Telstar Regional High School, in cooperation with the Guidance Department, is again coordinating an area-wide summer school program for the 1987 summer months.

A self-supporting program, it will offer remedial/make-up and enrichment opportunities for present 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th-grade students who failed a school year course or two. Also being looked at are general enrichment courses for credit, in the areas of personal typing, computer and P.E./outdoor recreation.

Courses offered will depend on enrollments; however, English, Basic Math, Algebra I, Algebra II, Social Studies, World Studies, United States History, Earth Sciences and Biology are some courses planned for this summer.

Students are invited to attend from junior/senior high schools, such as Buckfield, Dirigo, Gould Academy, Mexico, Oxford Hills and Rumford. Tentatively, summer school will start on Monday, June 22, and end on Friday, July 31. Class sessions will be 7:30-9:30 a.m. and 9:30-11:30 a.m. Students are encouraged to register early, by contacting their respective junior high and high school guidance offices or Louise Chapman, summer school director, Telstar Regional High School, 824-2136.

The registration deadline for Telstar Summer School is Friday, June 19.

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

Things have been back in full swing this week. The goals are centered around safety, and include several different ways to stay safe—from fire safety to playground safety to personal safety and more. Plans include showing the moving "Strong Kids, Safe Kids," which is offered at Groan and McGurn free of charge. It's a great movie for families to watch together at home.

The staff and children visited the Rumford fire station last Thursday. They had a good time.

The goals next week will be centered around Mother's Day and more on safety.

The glowing six-year-old star of the week is Jenny Mae Wheeler, of Bethel. Also, this is Nick Merrill's last week with us. He and his family are moving to Norway. We will all miss you, Nick. There will be no Head Start on May 22. Thank you, Bonnie, for volunteering on the field trip.

NEW CRAFTS STORE IN ANDOVER: Sharon Hutchins and her mother, Marion Coolidge, last week opened their crafts store, Sharma Crafts. It is located next to Akers' Store and is filled with lovely crafts, all made by local craftspeople.

Cemetery Association forms in Town of Newry

After 3½ years of research and administrative red tape, the Town of Newry now has a Cemetery Association.

Selectmen, in March 1983, appointed a committee of three to obtain from the State of Maine advice necessary to establish an association as a non-profit corporation. Appointed to the committee were Francis Berry, James Sysko and Romeo Baker (chairman).

The application for a certificate of organization was approved in January 1986 and filed with the Secretary of State on April 14, 1986. The certificate states, in part: "The corporation is organized and authorized to own, buy, sell, manage and maintain real estate in the Town of Newry for development and use of burial plots as a cemetery or cemeteries."

Julie Daye and Willard Wight were appointed as additional members to the committee in order to fulfill the requirements as interim officers and form the board of directors.

By-laws have been adopted by the board and approved by legal counsel. Rules and regulations are being drafted. Selectmen have issued a quit claim deed for the three cemeteries, conveying to the Association all property situated in the town as currently owned and used for cemetery purposes. The Association will now have overall jurisdiction of cemetery management formerly the responsibility of the selectmen. The three cemeteries now under control by the Association are: Head of the Tide and Powers Cemetery, both on Rte. 26, and the Foster Cemetery, on Sunday River Road.

The annual meeting of the Association will take place at the Town Office May 18, at 7 p.m. Any person or legal entity, including, but not limited to, a partnership, corporation or an association, owning a lot in any Newry cemetery, shall automatically be a member of the association and shall be entitled to one vote.

The board of directors is now looking for someone to fill the position of sexton. Interested persons may call the secretary, Julie Daye, at 824-2419, or any member of the board.

The Greenwood Fire Department was called out to a fire at the Fred Curtis place, Hayes Hill, Tuesday (April 28). They requested help and received it from Norway, West Paris and Woodstock. A great deal of hose was needed to go up the hill from the pond at Greenwood City as the water had to be pumped up from there. The auxiliaries provided coffee and doughnuts for the men, and supper to those who had to remain to watch for flarings after the fire was out. The main building was a total loss but a trailer attached was saved except for the door.

Memorial Day will soon be here and although it falls on a different day we should follow a tradition and wear a little poppy in honor of the veterans who made them and in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice. The money from the donations is used for the American Legion Auxiliary's child welfare program and to help the needy veterans and their families. Poppy Days in Locke Mills and Bryant Pond will be May 15 and 16.

The Greenwood Auxiliary of the fire department will meet this month one week earlier, on Monday, May 18, at 6:30 p.m. at the fire station.

Charlie and Jeannette Knight visited Nettie Hall, Charlie's aunt, at Stephens Memorial Hospital. She is in her 80's.

Jeannette Knight visited Helen and Edward Chase one day recently and Charlie and Jeannette had supper with them.

Saturday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mills were Marcia and Jon Smith, Dryden, and Donna and Bob Stewart and son, Anthony, from Jay.

Charlie and Jeannette Knight went shopping in Oxford and later played cards with Charlie's sister and friend in South Paris Friday evening.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Monday evening with Flossie Bernier, Sally Melville, Barbara Dunham, Denise Swan, and Mary Stone present. Several upcoming events were discussed including the West Paris-Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary combined meeting and supper in June, hosted by Greenwood this time, and the Bethel Senior Citizen dinner later in the season. They also discussed giving a donation to Project Graduation. Because of Memorial Day, the May meeting will be held on the 18th.

Charlie and Jeannette Knight took their oldest granddaughter, Dianne Campbell, out to dinner at Barjo's one Sunday and then back to USM at Gorham. Dianne has about two more weeks of college and then she will return to work as a CNA at the Norway Nursing Home.

The power company must think somebody doesn't like them as wet snow blanketed the area Wednesday and the electricity was off again. Gilbert Manufacturing Co. was one of the many

This past week was school vacation so children have been enjoying it riding bicycles around. They will be back in school before this is printed.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements took their vacation by flying to Florida, where they visited Mrs. Clements' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Harvey in Zephyrhills. They visited Epcot Center, Cypress Gardens and Kennedy Space Center. They arrived home Sunday, April 26. They saw alligators and armadillo and other animals.

David Clements is speaker at the next historical society meeting at Bryant Pond in May.

Olive Davis was in Bridgton Sunday where she called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and sister Lillian Harmon. Other visitors there were Mrs. Richard Goldsmith and two daughters, Daphne and Julie, and Mark Andrews.

Marta Clements is soliciting for the cancer fund on her road and Cleo Rye-son is soliciting Perkins Valley Road. Mary Billings is head of this drive.

Esther Davis took me to Lewiston Friday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and I went to Buckfield Grange Tuesday evening.

The old Parisiens orchestra will be holding a dance at West Summer Grange Hall May 9. A bean hole bean supper will be served. They are hoping for a large crowd as this is a benefit for different chapters.

Mrs. James Mason Sr. held a home decorating party with Sally Harney as demonstrator. After the showing of various arrangements, Goldie Mason served a buffet lunch, which all enjoyed. Those attending were Helen Remsen, Zella Redding, Dorothy Conley, Esther Davis, June Demarest, Dorothy Davis, Jean Grover and son, Cathy Mason and two children and Olive Davis. This was held the morning of April 27.

businesses only able to work in the afternoon.

Other news from Charlie and Jeannette Knight is that they visited Beverly Sylvester in Andover one day recently and they had Easter breakfast with Marianne and family in East Waterford.

If anyone has any advice to offer on how to get rid of these virus colds making the rounds please let me know. I've had the third one in five weeks and I'm getting mighty sick and tired of feeling sick and tired. I'm not sure my ears, nose and throat are going to know how to behave if and when I ever get back to normal (whatever that is) but after all this time one begins to wonder if there is anything over them at all. Very discouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lescault and Mark Jr. spent several days recently with his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tetraault, Nichole and Leo Jr. in Pawtucket, R.I. While there they attended the wedding and reception of Diane's cousin Leonard Cinq-Mars at the Billmore Hotel and ballroom in Providence. The week of the floods they had spent with his parents in West Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlon Keniston were callers here Monday evening.

Monday Mrs. Elinora Doyen drove me to Rumford for x-rays. I have been confined to the house since with a broken bone in my foot.

Mrs. Ethel Turner and children, of Otisfield, and Mrs. Dottie Adams, Derek and Erin, of Hanover, came Sunday afternoon and we all enjoyed cake and ice cream to celebrate my birthday. My many beautiful cards were much appreciated.

Our power was off Thursday forenoon for four hours. Some of the neighbors had not had any power from Tuesday midnight till Thursday afternoon due to the heavy wet snowfall. Now what can we expect for a weather surprise?

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons were in Gorham, N.H., Thursday. Friday evening they attended the Gould Academy dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders at the Philbrook Farm in Shelburne, N.H.

Mrs. Lawrence Kimball spent this week at her home here.

Mrs. Edroy Curtis visited with me Saturday.

A smile adds to your face value.

A very special Mother's Day Dinner*

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

A few days ago I rode by a small secluded place which I have visited many times. Today it was different for someone had changed its "dress," combed the tangle from its hair and put on a new face. The Greenwood Cattle Pound had been cleaned and restored.

A century and more ago every Maine town had its pound, so named because of its function as impounding device to keep stray cattle and other animals from wandering into Mrs. Swain's petunia garden, becoming permanently lost with another farmer's animals, or perhaps causing bodily harm to innocent citizens who did nothing to warrant such an infiction. It is a lamentable fact that only about 15 pounds remain in our Pine Tree State today.

The main figure behind the operation of a town pound was the keeper. Although some of these keepers acquired their jobs by going after them and winning in town election, many do not realize that the job was often bestowed upon unwilling persons in a manner which reminds one of the similar selection for jury duty. True, the draftee usually met the qualifications of stalwartness, but occasionally provided laughter for the village gossips when the newest and least-prepared male was selected, until it came their turn to be called to serve. These were 24-hour days and 7-day weeks, which seldom experienced a dull moment.

While dealing with animals was usually an encumbering job, dealing with their owners proved often to be an even more demanding task. Some farmers were not above such mendacious tricks as claiming animals which did not belong to them. They sometimes visited the pound on a cloudy night claiming their strays and avoiding paying their fine.

Pound keepers tried to guard against this by keeping records of each animal and living adjacent to the pound, but even then were outfoxed by a crafty farmer. Often, too, he ignored posted notices which resulted in a public auction. Then the proceeds would be appropriated for damages and the care of the animals.

As the 19th century moved into the 20th the invention of electric fences and barbed wire kept the farm animals on their own territory.

The curious old structure gradually fell into disuse but some were saved by interested citizens or historical societies.

Man, then, was largely to blame for the pound's sad destruction in history. Meanwhile persons like me who enjoy seeing these remaining miniature Stonehenges standing nearby, must be contented with hope and the stories—some true, and some questionable—that have come down from generation to generation around these village pounds.

Ours here in Greenwood City, built about 1858, is nestled among the trees, on Pound Hill where the flowers bloom, Robin builds its nest, sings into late evening and the traffic rushes by, never notice-

SALLY HANNON INDUCTED INTO HONOR SOCIETY AT PLYMOUTH STATE COLLEGE

Plymouth (N.H.) State College graduate student Sally Hannon of Gilead, was inducted into the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi in ceremonies on the White Mountain campus April 26.

A M.Ed. major, Mrs. Hannon was recognized for her academic achievement and superior scholarship. She was one of seven seniors, 13 juniors, one alumna, and 15 graduate students selected for the honor. To be chosen for membership, seniors must be in the top 10 percent of their class and have obtained an overall grade-point average of at least 3.5; juniors and sophomores must be in the top five percent with the same average; graduate students must have a g.p.a. of 3.5 or above.

ing this historical place, the pound in its new dress.

After church, Sunday, I hiked the farm fields with my nearly four year old niece who with her father and mother, David and Sally Holt, were visiting there. Her interest was rock climbing and at one point she offered, "I'll give you a hand if you can't make it." Home again— "Thanks, Aunt Cils, it was wonderful fun!"

Dorothy Curtis celebrated her birthday at West Paris with Audrey and Waldo Porter and Bernardine Putnam. Mildred Bowman took her over for the day. Lucy and son, Tommy, West Sumner, brought her a birthday cake and she had other gifts. Evelyn Heikkinen of Dixfield visited her.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis and I visited our brother Ernest Curtis in Poland one day. It was nice to see him home again. Ernest Morris is again a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital where he had more surgery.

Max Pulsifer was at Stephens Memorial Hospital for a few days but is now home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiArenzo came to their home here after several weeks in Georgia and visits in Pennsylvania.

Fred Curtis was in Lewiston Friday to see his doctor. He also planted his beets and peas this week.

Lettie Brooks and I visited Mary Lyon at Locke Mills on Tuesday. Evelyn Heikkinen has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman were at Maplewood Cottage over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts had some of their family home for the weekend.

Robert Holt, Windsor, took his mother to Boston April 27 to see her eye doctor. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis visited their son, Ray and wife, in Norway on the weekend.

Mrs. Wayne Hakala had a housewares party at her home recently.

I walked down to visit Denise Adams and children and had lunch with them on Thursday.

THE SAD #44 ADULT ED PARENTING COURSE met last week at the West Bethel Children's Center. Attending were: Kate Slattery, with daughter Becky, Donna Morton (who led the session), Carole Duplessis, with son Christopher, Linda Gibbs and Mary Taylor, with son Benjamin.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

So far Mother Nature has zapped us with her bag of tricks, just before the opening, and on the first of each new month! Last month, it was the flood and at the close of April, the unexpected snowstorm. Perhaps something foiled even Mother Nature, because I am sure my poor daffodils and tulips didn't expect to become deluged with heavy wet blankets of snow either. Under the circumstances, one does not dare say that winter is over, but in my wildest dreams I continue to envision the cat sitting in the green grass under a clear blue sky with early butterflies flitting in the warm air, while puppies chase them, with flowers, buds and soft new leaves dripping from the trees.

So until the fields smell sweet and daisies and buttercups splatter the landscape and in every branch birds are nesting and singing their sweet tunes of victory, keep the faith and remember patience is a virtue. This, too, shall pass! Kenny Newell is now recovering from his fifth heart attack at the home of his mother, Marion Kimball. We all miss your smiling face at the store, Kenny, and will be pleased to hear when you are well on the road to recovery.

During this last storm, Gilead was again without power from 3 a.m. until about 11 o'clock on April 29.

Dale and Tammy Kolthaus are progressing rapidly on the new home they are building on the North Road, and soon will be able to move in with their family. Much happiness is wished for them in their new home.

Dinner at l'Auberge Thurs.-Sat. 5:30-8:30 by reservation only.

All of our entrees are expertly prepared and include a choice of vegetable or salad, potato or rice and a homemade croissant.

l'Auberge is also the perfect setting for your group luncheon and special occasions.

Kindergarten parents to meet on fall programs

There will be a meeting May 14 for parents of next year's kindergartners. The meeting, at 7 p.m. in Crescent Park School, will feature kindergarten teachers explaining the junior and regular kindergarten programs. They will answer any questions parents have. Parents of prospective kindergartners will also have the opportunity to make appointments for next fall's EPSP screening.

Children in town, who enjoyed last week's vacation, are now back in school studying vigorously.

Without having had a grosbeak all winter to feed, I was surprised to see them during this last storm. They hopped upon the window ledges and peeked inside, so expectantly. As I did not have any sunflower seeds to offer them, I was pleased to hear that when they arrived at Marion Kimball's, she went to town and got some for them. She reports that she is feeding mourning doves, purple finches and juncos at this writing.

Last Saturday, or least on the 25th, my husband and I took a ride down the back side from Shelburne. As we passed Lary Brook, there were a pair of the common mergansers (fish-eating diving ducks). What a companionable sight as they lazily drifted along the high water.

Corrections in last week's news: Maxine Corriveau had two of her grandchildren visiting her. Rosette Corriveau has employment in Vermont.

Call me at 836-3873 if you have news you want printed. Thank you for your cooperation.

Tri-Town Rescue

On Saturday, May 9, Tri-Town will join the Pleasant Pond Grange, in West Sumner, in sponsoring a Bean Hole bean supper. This semi-annual event precedes the Old Time Parisian's dance and is always very popular. There is always plenty of food, and plenty of fun, so why not mark your calendar now so that you don't forget this special night.

Tri-Town Search and Rescue will be meeting at the new building at Trap Corner on Tuesday, May 12. Ken would like to have a good turnout at this meeting, as it is time to make plans for the summer months.

On May 17, Sunday, we will be sponsoring our annual Walk-a-Bike-a-thon. This will start at the Agnes Gray School, in West Paris, follow Rte. 219 to Greenwood City, and then back the same route to the school, for a total of 10 miles. The sponsor sheets are available now for this walk, they can be picked up at any of the local schools, or from a Tri-Town member. Come join us for some great exercise, and make a contribution to a good cause at the same time.

The annual newsletters are also available, and sometime in the next month, someone should be knocking on your door with one. The Life Vial sheets will be with the newsletters, and anyone with medical problems, or anyone who lives alone, should fill one out. They make it much easier for all concerned when an emergency occurs. If you don't have a copy of this, or if you need a new one, give Jane or Dorene a call.

The interior work at the new Trap Corner barn is nearly completed. Volunteers are painting the garage floor; then it's just a matter of waiting until the carpet comes in. All the interior work should be done by the May 31 open house. The building looks great already, and everyone is proud of it and very anxious to move in. Plan to come and view the new home of Tri-Town Rescue Sunday, May 31, at 1 p.m.

Rotary Club sponsoring car wash for benefit of Spanish youth exchange

The Bethel Rotary Club is holding a car wash on Saturday, May 16, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the SAD #44 bus garage. Headed by Rotarian Bruce Powell, the cost is $2 per vehicle. This is the first of a series of fundraising events the Rotary has planned to pay for the July 11-25 visit of 20 children and five adult chaperones coming from Miljas, Spain. Also, a bike-a-thon is scheduled for June 6, and a public supper planned for a date to be announced.

Many families, individuals, businesses, and non-profit organizations are contributing in some way to offset the bill for this exciting exchange. However, Rotary President Dave Preble still expects the costs to exceed $1,200 and is setting a goal of $1,500 for fundraising for the first part of the exchange. The bulk of the expense will be SAD #44 bus transportation to and from the airport and to daily activities, and picnic lunches during their two-week stay. To help with the latter, the Bethel Inn and Bethel Lions club have each agreed to provide for a lunch for the Spanish guests.

The second half of the exchange will occur during the summer of 1988 when Bethel Rotary will send an equal delegation of young adults to Miljas. Their housing will be provided for in Spain but funds

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Although April has been a sleepy month in the area there has been quite a lot of activity at the office of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce.

The census forms for the Blue Cross/Blue Shield Plan have been sent off and we are waiting to hear from them as to the rate.

The new brochures are being printed this week and "Mac" MacMunn will be going to Lewiston to pick up 20,000 of them! Inquiries are coming into the office at quite a rate—so we're anxious to get them in. Thanks, "Mac", and also to the brochure committee who worked so hard to put it together.

Plans are completed for the annual awards banquet, May 15, at the Bethel Inn. The chamber will be presenting annual awards as well as having the opportunity to hear well-known actress Jayne Kennedy (see separate article). Ticket sales have been really good—so please get yours early at the chamber office or from one of the other outlets.

Mollycodd Day plans are underway. "Ronald McDonald" will be participating again this year and the chamber will again be having a food booth on the Common. We are looking for volunteers to build a float and man the booth so please call the office, 824-2232 if you'd like to

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society were reminded that the monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, May 7, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 7:30 p.m. Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be a presentation by Ben B. Conant, curator of the Paris Cape Historical Society, who will speak on the subject, "Bethel-Paris Connections." Anyone interested in attending is cordially invited to do so.

President Alden T. Kennett has announced the judges for the Dr. Moses Mason Award: Rosalind R. Chapman, Margaret Joy Tibbitts, and Edmond J. Vachon.

The Trustees of the society and the Long-Range Planning Committee held a joint meeting recently to review the report of the committee and to discuss strategies for its implementation. The Trustees approved the formation of a preservation committee as one of the society's standing committees. Any society member wishing to serve on this committee should call the society office at 824-2908.

One does not hear very often the terms "milliner" or "millinery shop" today but in the 19th century and in the early decades of the 20th, they were common, even in the smallest communities. A milliner specializes in the design, manufacture or sales of women's headwear and in Bethel there were several millinery shops, usually operated by women. One of the best documented shops was operated by Mary J. Clark on Church Street in the 1870s. In 1883 it was noted in a list of Bethel business establishments that there were five millinery shops in Bethel. Two sisters with the last name Curtis operated a millinery shop in Bethel from the 1870s until 1900. Probably Bethel's best known milliner was Miss E.E. Burnham who began her business in the Rowe Block (now the site of the Bethel Fire Station). She later moved (1892) to the second floor of the Cole Block and then to the first floor (now the site of the Bethel town office) where she continued until 1904. Miss L.M. Stearns was a noted milliner in the old First National building on Main Street (now the site of Casco Bank). She continued her business later in the brick block near the corner of Main and Broad Streets, now owned by attorney Gordon Gilles, until 1932.

K of P Hall for an informal early evening luncheon and any interested person is asked to join the group in these ceremonies including a reading of the honor roll in the church yard honoring persons that served their country in time of need, some making the supreme sacrifice. It is hoped many can be there.

At a recent meeting Helen Grover was introduced at the altar in honor of her 62 years of membership as of this month.

ALL DISTRICT ELEMENTARY STUDENTS WERE TREATED TO a special one-hour assembly May 1 at the Telstar auditorium. Performers Benny and Denise Reehl, with their New England New Vaudeville Revue, entertained the 500 children with their blend of mime artistry, juggling and character skits. The program was sponsored by the Mahosuc Arts Council, and was funded, in part, by a grant from the Maine Arts Commission. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

Oxford Union Association holds annual meeting

The Oxford Union Association of the Maine Conference, United Church of Christ, held its annual meeting Sunday afternoon at the United Congregational Church in Oxford. Presiding at the meeting was the outgoing moderator, Steve Wight of West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

During the business meeting the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year: moderator, Rev. Anita White, Poland; vice-moderator, Silver Leamon, Locke Mills; scribe, Rev. Brendon Bass, Bethel; treasurer, Rev. Norman Rust, West Bethel and Albany. Also chosen were members and chairmen of the committees that carry on the work of the association which represents 28 UCC churches in Oxford County.

Following the business meeting, Rev. Jean Bass of Bethel and the Christian Education Committee led a program on Adult Education: Beyond Sunday School. The program included discussion of adult christian education opportunities and workshops on these topics: Video Opportunities for Christian Ed., Keregram: Adult Bible Study for All, and Personal Faith Exploration.

A delicious chicken ala king supper was served by the Oxford church followed by a worship service led by John Ellis of Norway. Featured during the service was the ceremony of licensure of Ellis Carr, as minister of the Mechanic Falls and Oxford churches.

West Paris

By MIRIAM INMAN

To correct an article in last week's news—Audrey Inman celebrated her sixth birthday, not the seventh as erroneously stated. One gets old fast enough without adding on a year by mistake!

On Tuesday, May 12, the Eleanor B. Forbes Goodwill Group will be having their spring sale at the bank room from 9 a.m. to 12. There will be all kinds of goodies, hand made items, coffee, sandwiches and rhubarb pie for sale. Sounds good!

The Wednesday cleaning bee, that was to have been, at the Odd Fellows Hall, was postponed due to the weather surprise. Plans were for Monday afternoon, May 4. Hope there was a good turnout!

West Paris Grange will be observing youth night on Thursday, May 7. There will be a 6:30 supper preceding the meeting. On Saturday, May 9, there will be a food, crafts and what-not sale at the Grange Hall from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tables may be rented by calling 674-2147.

CARD OF THANKS

Special thanks to all my relatives and friends for the cards, flowers, and food and other kindnesses shown me while I was sick. It was all greatly appreciated. Elsie Bennett

Aids workshop

The Bethel Area Health Center will present an Aids Workshop for students at Gould Academy, Telstar Middle School and Telstar Regional High School on May 12.

On the evening of May 12 at 7 p.m. a public shop will be held in the lecture hall at Telstar Regional High School.

The intent of the workshop is to educate and inform parents and children alike concerning risks and behaviors from a health and medical point of view.

All of the workshops will be held in a panel format. Dr. Taylor, medical director of the health center will be a member of the panel along with Dave Akers from the Department of Public Health. There will be a relative of an aids victim present to address the problems of social isolation and support in coping with a terminal illness. The best prevention is dealing with this disease is education.

HEALTH CENTER SPONSORING CHILDBIRTH PREPARATION CLASSES AGAIN THIS SPRING

The Bethel Area Health Center will be sponsoring Childbirth Preparation classes again this spring. Classes will start on Tuesday nights from 7:00 to 9:00 starting May 19. The course will run for eight weeks and will meet at the health center. It will be taught by Mary Taylor, and Kathy Sutton, R.N. The fee is $25 per couple, unless other arrangements are made. Gould seniors start school-end projects

Gould Academy seniors have the opportunity to terminate their classes three weeks before graduation and participate in the school's Senior May Project Program.

Over half the class will spend their time pursuing a topic, project, course or job not normally covered in the formal curriculum at the independent boarding school. Upon successful completion of their regular studies and final exams, the participants will begin projects both on and off the Gould campus.

A typical senior project is that of Kevin Hunsberger, a four-year Gould student from Damariscotta. Kevin has been taking flying lessons and wishes to pursue a career in aviation. He will spend four days at the Brunswick Naval Air Station looking at the military side of flying. Included in his stay at the base will be a flight in the P-3 Orion, a submarine-hunter aircraft, and an opportunity to try out the flight simulator. He will study civilian aviation at the airports in Wiscasset, Augusta and Portland. During this time there will be flying lessons and observing operations at Delta Airlines.

Other senior projects held off campus will include teaching internships in elementary and secondary schools; participating in an Outward Bound course in Colorado; working as a YMCA assistant; studying rural emergency medicine; hospital management; building a kayak; town planning through an attitudinal survey; working in a psychiatric ward; and volunteer work with Southeast Asian refugees in Philadelphia.

On-campus projects include linoleum block printing; computer programming for the Gould library; layout and editing of the school's yearbook; model rocketry; organizing a school newspaper; freelance photography; compiling data for Head Start; and working as a veterinarian's assistant.

At the completion of the program, on May 20, each student will present his or her project to the rest of the school through exhibits, reports, journals, pictures and/or demonstrations. Gould faculty member Jay "Mac" Davis coordinates the Senior May Program.

OUR SINCERE THANKS

The family of Perley G. Miller wishes to thank all the people who expressed sympathy and kindness at our recent loss. Long after you've read these words of appreciation, we'll still be thinking of how very thoughtful you were. Thank you very, very much.

Girl Scout Council meets

Telstar Association of Kennebec Girl Scout Council met at 6 p.m. on April 29 to honor its leaders at a banquet at the Chicken Coop, at Mexico. Those present were Joyce Knight and Patty Sydelem, field executives from Kennebec Council; John Shields, of Hiram; Diane Milligan, service unit manager, of Rumford Point; Cindy Blake, Nancy Grover, and Leslie Coley, all from Bethel; Connie Libby, Maureen Houle, Stephanie Swan, Sandy Buchanan, and Donna Swan, from Dixfield; Debra Swan, Hanover; Sande Endicott, Locke Mills; Louanne Thibodeau, of Rumford Center; Joan Ippolito, Rose Downs, Linda Couture, and Donna Worcester, of Rumford Point; Judy Boucher, Byron; Nance Howard, Jane Woods, Pauline Dubois, Sally Turbide, and Bernice Easter, of Mexico; Marie Charleston, Anna Shaw, Karen Murphy, Andrea Conner, and Joan Parrar, of Rumford; and Cathy Dolloff, Becky Hall, Brenda Gammon, Louise Gerrish and Gerry Donahue, of Peru.

Joyce Knight had to leave early to attend another meeting at Farmington, but before she left she went carefully over the "Bridging Activities and Ceremony." The activities are designed to emphasize the continuity of program, to introduce girls within each age level to what lies ahead and to give older girls a sense of responsibility for younger girls.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

It's not fair to have two April Fool's Days in April, but we had them and we survived. The asparagus froze and the large bed of daffodils and jonquils was flattened and as I write these few items, they are still flat. Maybe it will be warmer now. Just can't win.

Eveline Vatcher went to Stephens Memorial Hospital for x-rays and blood test. No pneumonia fluid around the lung. The first supper sponsored by the Community Club was a success and we had lots of food ready. A lady from the Citizen came and took a picture of the help. Doris Lawrence was one of the coordinators, but was absent from the photo as she had just left to attend a birthday supper honoring Mrs. Lena Dean.

Joe Kalinowski came to "Big Rock" May 7 for several weeks and to attend the heart and cancer dance at West Summer May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott flew to Boulder, Col., May 5 to attend the wedding of his step-son, Robert Faulkingham. They will be gone for a week. Mrs. Lena Kangas, West Paris, grandmother of Robert, has been in Colorado a few weeks and will stay until after the wedding.

Lewwood "Pete" Andrews called on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher Thursday afternoon and left "This is My Life" for them to read. It is very interesting. Callers at Lawrence's: Ellen Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Arnold Coffin, Richard Fell and Stanley Heath.

Nathan Isley remains at Stephens Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Isley goes every day to feed him his dinner and supper which is a very small meal.

High Street

By VIVA WHITMAN

What a week this has been! It seems that spring or summer was rather short with the snow that fell, starting Tuesday afternoon. Not so good to wake up to eight to ten inches of snow on Wednesday morning and no electricity. Russell and I were both awake at 4 a.m. and when the power went off at about 4:22 there was a bright flash of light. Neither of us knew what made it, just that there was a bright flash. Power didn't come back on so we tried to start our gas heater with no luck. Called the heating repair service at 7 a.m. and they came when they could and started the heater. It helped warm the place, but was rather stinky where it hadn't been run before and kind of stuffed me up.

Russell hasn't felt the best for a few days, but insisted on shoveling snow enough from the driveway so we could get out as I had an appointment in North Bridgton. On the way home we decided to stop at his doctor's to see if he could get some help. After sending Russell for a blood test, the doctor decided he should be in the hospital, so that's where he is. He needs rest and attention, and hopefully the doctor can find his trouble better than they did mine. Still have mine with me, keeping me company. Russell took advantage of the good weather during the weekend to make a cold frame. May not get to use it now, but only time will tell.

I have spent time trying to do a little housecleaning and sewing. Went out to help Russell once in awhile.

Joe Perham called on Tuesday afternoon, taking donations for the cancer fund and in talking, told us of an interesting incident. It seems that last Saturday while at their place on Moose Pond in North Paris, Joe and his wife Peg found a balloon. You have heard of children from some schools sending up balloons, I'm sure. This particular balloon had been released in Toronto, Canada, on Friday and they found it on Saturday. It had only taken 24 hours for the balloon to come to North Paris from Toronto. Rather amazing, I thought. Joe said his wife was having the children in her class send letters to the children in Canada. It should be interesting for all of them.

Russell and I had to go to West Paris Tuesday morning so called on Viola Whitman for a short visit. I wanted to leave a small gift for Toby, as it was his birthday. Hope it was a happy one.

Hope there wasn't too much damage from the freak storm. There were so many places without electricity and folks like hot meals, so the restaurants did good business. On our way to North Bridgton, I saw many trees that had been broken over by the heavy, wet snow.

I was to have had my granddaughters with me for a couple of days, but with all that happened, Wynona insisted I go home with her, so I did. Russell thought it a good idea, also. Wynona is still hobbling with her leg in a cast and Michael had the misfortune to hurt his back, so guess we all are having our share of trouble. It never rains but it pours!

We all hope the future will be brighter, but one never knows from one day to the next. Guess it's lucky, or we wouldn't want to keep going as we do. Everyone take care and have a good week.
